Born David Barese in Somerville, New Jersey, DJ Kue a.k.a. Fuego exploded on the music scene in 2001 and the club scene quickly took notice to Kue's unique Turntable skills, style and passion for music. The proud son of Italian and Argentinean parents, The self-proclaim El Argentino Bambino is fluent in English, Spanish & Italian. DJ Kue embodies a sense of culture that enables him to continue to break musical boundaries.

While other djs wonder, contemplate, and fathom on how to revolutionize the way music is heard, DJ Kue executes. Every week Kue can be heard 96.1 KISS FM, a Clear Channel radio station, as well as in the most popular night clubs in a country near you. Kue has been a interracial part of the production and marketing for major radio, internet and TV shows including The Jump Off, Full Throttle Radio and Man and Wife TV allowing Kue to work closely with the two time Grammy Award winner Fatman Scoop. DJ Kue is also a music producer/remixer and a member of the World Famous Vinyl Squad Crew.

Kue has a college degree in Communications, but his diverse business experience has allowed himself to gain success way beyond the Entertainment world. From DJing to computer programming, Kue launched his own software company Mixcity Inc., the makers of the popular DJ software "KueIt". And if that's wasn't enough, Kue is also co-owner of his own Italian restaurant. Fuego, seems to find success at what ever he puts his mind to.

Overtime Kue's well developed rapport has led to him be featured on the same stage with icons such as Big Ali, Fatman Scoop, Rob Base, G-Unit, Ne-Yo, Ryan Leslie and many more. Aside from spinning in major nightclubs every week in the New York Tri-State Area, DJ Kue has performed in world renown cities such as Dubai, Paris, Miami, Alecante, and many more. His discography also entails a year long running radio show called "La Hora el Fuego" on FG Radio in France, and after nearly a decade on air, Kue continues to broadcast "The Friday Night Street Party" every week live on KISS FM radio. The world can only anticipate, what's next for the already successful and extremely talented El Argentino Bambino, DJ Kue.
